TOTAL TALENT MANAGEMENT TECHNOLOGIES FOR TODAY'S HIGH-PERFORMING, NIMBLE ORGANIZATIONS

THE LANDSCAPE

40%

of an enterprise workforce can be staffed by contingent talent

We exist in an economy where contingent talent is an ever-increasing component of mission-critical business operations for organizations.

Is your management team prepared with the right practices, tools and analytics to effectively manage this hybrid workforce?

With greater reliance on outside talent comes new challenges. HR must better forecast demand for these job roles and fine-tune the supply base to fulfill this demand.

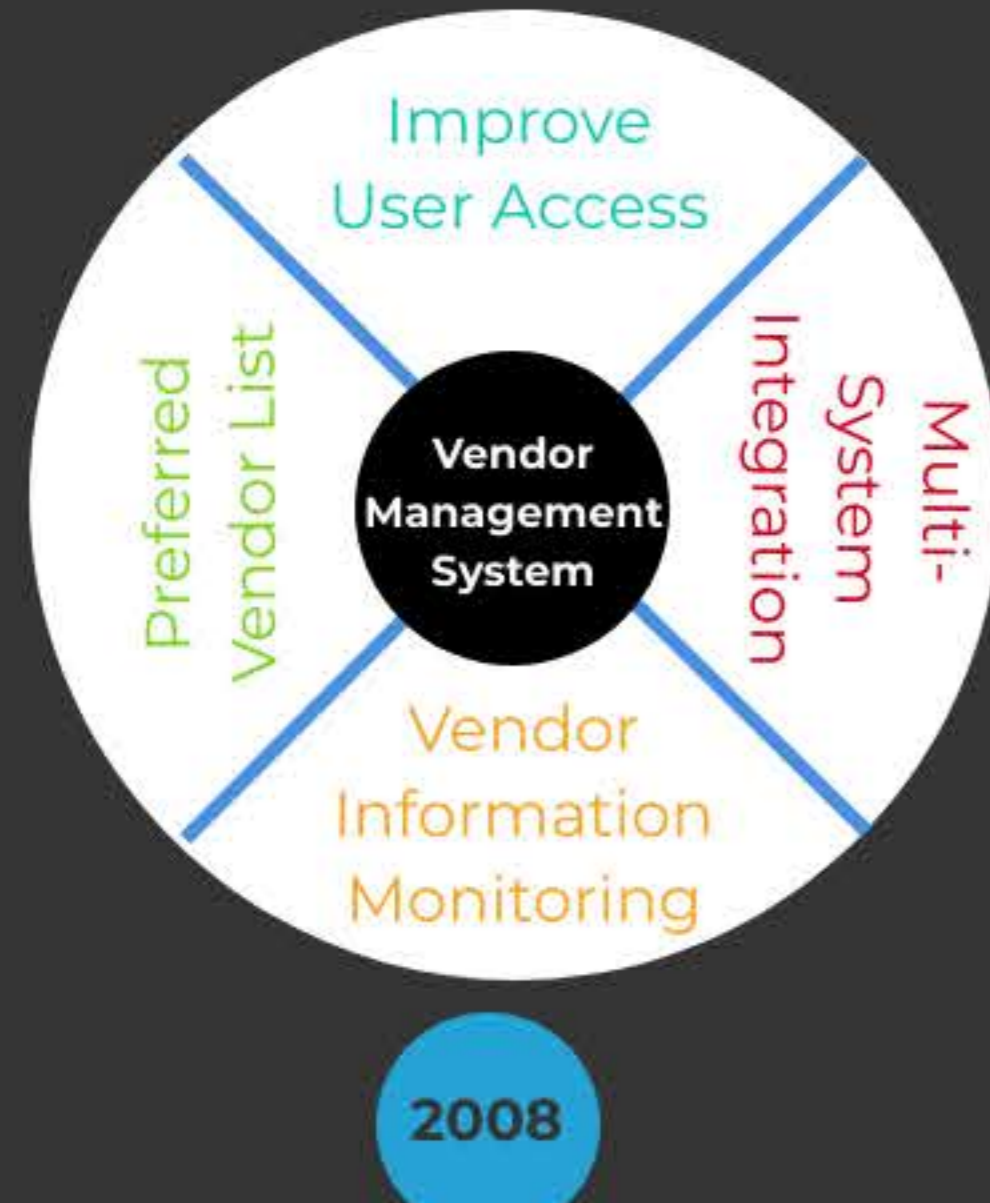

Most importantly, executive management must be able to monitor performance of their entire workforce and allocate the right resources when and where they are needed.

There is a way to bring together HR, hiring managers, staffing suppliers and contingent workers into one system to access, manage and optimize this workforce.
